

◆ Orange wine producer Belgravia has an original concept for promoting wines from the Orange region: through its Union Bank outlet in Orange. With the help of wine identity and Orange resident Peter Bourne, it does flights of four like varietals (30ml of each) with a small serve of appropriate food for $12. Last week's combination was merlots with peppered local venison and crostini. Union Bank is also selling mixed dozens to benchmark Orange wines. The current Orange Plus dozen ($250) is a flight (four bottles) each of riesling, merlot and shiraz, which will be available until Australia Day when the next dozen is released. Previous dozens have included some imported wines. All are still available for purchase. Contact Sophie Hansen on 6361 4441 or see www.unionbank.com.au.
