

Bank on it

Wine bars, once the haunt of divorcees and '70s TV stars, are hot again and playing to an expanded audience at Elizabeth Street's Bambini Wine Room, Holt Street's Vini and Kellett Street's Aperitif. But the smartest-looking new arrival has opened in the booming Central West food and wine belt. Belgravia at The Union Bank is making the right noises, keeping decidedly un-bankery hours and service and outsourcing talent: Peter Bourne is responsible for selecting the dozen non-Belgravia wines on the list and hatted neighbour Lolli Redini provides the tapas-style menu. Belgravia at The Union Bank, corner Sale and Byng streets, Orange, 6361 4441.

Weigh anchor

Ferguson's Marina has always had a knockout view at The Spit. Then, in 2005, it was on the

In Orange, a taste of Seville ... tapas and wine at Belgravia at The Union Bank. Photo: Jeremy Simons